

Casualties Climb in Vietnam

SARON (AP) — U.S. South Vietnamese and enemy battle deaths all edged up slightly last week with an increase in enemy activity reported in the northern part of the country.

U.S. headquarters said 143 Americans were killed in action last week, compared with 137 the week before.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said 529 government soldiers were killed last week, compared with 502 a week earlier. And the two commands put the number of enemy killed last week at 2,361, compared with 2,291 reported last Thursday. As usual the previous week's total was revised today, on the basis of later reports, and 2,370 enemy dead were reported for the week of Aug. 31-Sept. 6.

Government spokesmen said the casualty figures reflected an increase in enemy activity in the northern half of the country, including rocket and mortar attacks and "infiltration into hamlets and resettlement camps."

U.S. headquarters said 1,343 Americans were wounded in action last week.

The new figures raised to 38,593 the number of Americans reported killed in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961. The number of wounded in that period now stands at 250,945, and another 1,341 Americans are listed as missing or captured.

The U.S. Command said 551,519 enemy have been reported killed since Jan. 1, 1961.

Group Wants Accounting From Hawkins

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court was asked Wednesday to require Sheriff Marlin Hawkins of Conway County to account for cash bonds he received back to 1954.

The request was made by Oscar Fendler of Blytheville and Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana, attorneys for a group of 15 taxpayers who started a lawsuit against Hawkins four years ago.

Chancellor Bobby Steel of Washington ruled in July 1968 on the original suit that the sheriff had to account only for funds from 1963 to 1966 because the statute of limitations prevented any accounting for the years before that.

record as favoring sober and serious negotiations with the Soviet Union on the Middle East, arms race curbs and other topics.

And, he said, "Whenever the leaders of Communist China choose to abandon their self-imposed isolation, we are ready to talk with them in the same frank and serious spirit."

Looking toward broad international cooperation in areas ranging from population control and space exploration to a counterattack against aircraft hijackings, Nixon asserted:

"... Let us press toward an open world—a world of open doors, open hearts, open minds—a world open to the exchange of ideas and of people, and open to the reach of the human spirit—a world open in its search for truth, and unconcerned with the fate of old dogmas and isms—a world open at last to the light of justice, and reason, and to the achievement of that true peace which the people of every land carry in their hearts and celebrate in their hopes."

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Nixon, was making a quick roundtrip to New York from the capital, but staying long enough to meet privately during the afternoon with a number of visiting foreign ministers, and to entertain U.N. diplomats at an evening reception.

No formal conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei N. Gromyko was scheduled.

In discussing Vietnam, Nixon once again said "our one limited but fundamental objective" there is to ensure South Vietnam's right of self-determination without outside interference. On that point, the United States will not compromise, he stated. As for lack of progress in Paris, he said:

"The missing ingredient so far has been the willingness of the other side to talk on any terms other than those that would predetermine the result and deny the right of self-determination to the people of South Vietnam."

Once the other side is genuinely willing to reach agreement, he said, "The practical solutions can readily be found."

from the east, and another assault wave poured in from that direction. American artillery and fighter-bombers helped drive the enemy back after two hours of fighting.

An hour later, fresh North Vietnamese troops attacked from the northwest, touching off an hour-long fight. After the enemy withdrew, the Marines continued to receive sporadic mortar fire until daylight, when reinforcements reached them.

As dawn broke, the Marines counted 16 of their men killed, and 34 wounded. A search of the battlefield turned up the bodies of 23 North Vietnamese.

Shortly after noon Wednesday, 150 Marines of the 4th Regiment were hit two miles to the north by North Vietnamese in fortified positions. In 25 minutes, seven Marines died and 24 were wounded.

North Vietnamese losses were not known.

Another barrage of rocket grenades and mortar shells smashed into the Marines as they were attempting to evacuate their casualties.

FORREST CITY (from page one)

Wednesday.

"We just want people to get together and get things straightened out," Derosit said of the closing. He said officials would appeal for calm and reason during the time the schools are closed.

"We're all in a quandary about what to do right now, but we're doing the best we can," Derosit said.

Some pickets claimed Wednesday that white students were receiving unfair treatment. They said some whites, but no Negroes, had been searched, presumably for weapons, since school opened. Others said Negro students were not being disciplined.

When the students walked out Tuesday they said they were being threatened by Negroes. Classes Wednesday appeared orderly, but a school official said absenteeism was 20 per cent above normal.

This is the sixth month of racial tension in Forrest City. It began in March when Negro students went on a rampage at an all-Negro junior-senior high school complex. Later, Negroes organized a boycott of white Forrest City merchants. Last month, whites formed a group called the Concerned Citizens Committee and began picketing in a demand for "law and order."

—Housing starts continue to slip.

There the evidence seems to end, although the monetary and fiscal authorities had forecast that by now these would be a long list of indicators pointing downward. Even the evidence that does exist is weak.

—Industrial production did decline — but only by a small fraction of one per cent and only for one month.

—The rise in the number of persons employed has slowed a bit — but unemployment remains very low at 3.5 per cent or so. If business is feeling a pinch it hasn't as yet reacted by laying off workers.

—Retail sales seem to be stagnated at between $29 billion and $30 billion a month — but a good Christmas season could change that.

—Housing starts have been hurt badly, but this indicator traditionally has been one of the first to turn down. It doesn't mean the others will follow.

In addition, despite forecasts of a coming downturn in the rate of inflation — now somewhere around 7 per cent or 8 per cent a year — there is no clear evidence of that downturn.

Says Statements of Profit, Loss Used to Measure Progress

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is using a business profit and loss statement — rather than social gains — to measure progress by some experimental community action firms.

Spokesmen for the federal antipoverty program acknowledge paying dozens of hard-core poor from the payroll in at least two projects — one in a big city ghetto, the other in a rural southern town — that verged on bankruptcy.

But they argue their aim is to put the firms on their feet so that ultimately they can employ the jobless rather than letting the firms become another form of welfare agency.

"The criteria for success in this field is the creation of a viable business enterprise ... there's not going to be a never-ending transfusion of dough," says Geoffrey Faux, chief of the Office of Economic Opportunity's Economic Development

Branch. "We know they're not going to be as efficient as General Motors, but the question is can they at least support themselves and maybe make a profit," said another official of OEO, the federal government's antipoverty agency.

The official, who asked not to be identified, said the Nixon administration "is more interested in the ability of these projects to support themselves and less interested in getting the hard-core poor on some sort of payroll."

"There will be screams and howls of protest from all over," he said. "Albina is just the first."

Albina is the Albina Corp. of Portland, Ore., founded, operated and manned almost entirely by blacks in the city's ghetto. Located in a former bowling alley, the metal, plastics and fiberglass manufacturing firm has processed a number of government and private contracts since its founding a year ago.

But its president, Mayfield

Webb, says pressure from Washington has forced it to drop some social goals and aim for a quick profit.

"We have felt the effect of the new administration in Washington," says Webb, a lawyer and NAACP official. "The program people are not being listened to. It's the financial people now," he says of what he calls new orders from OEO.

OEO is considering Albina's application for a new $490,000 grant. It already has made grants totaling $586,545. Webb says "everything will go down the drain" without the additional funds.

When the corporation ran into a delay in tooling up for a $1.2 million Department of Defense contract for steel ammunition boxes, OEO took a close look at the corporation and suggested several changes in management methods.

Webb says the basic difference is that OEO wants Albina to start showing a profit quickly. He says the original idea was to think about cash profits in two or three years while concentrating now on widespread employment of the hardcore jobless; of helping to start other black businesses; of generally benefiting the Albina district where most of Portland's 18,000 blacks live. Webb says the project will get back to those goals once it starts making money. In the meantime, several of the hard-core poor have been dropped from the payroll and some experienced whites have been brought in at wages higher than those paid to the blacks. The whites, however, don't participate in Albina's profit-sharing plan.

"The Republicans want to see definite results and less of 'Oh gee, these guys are really poor and we've got to do something.' They want to see these projects eventually pay for themselves," the OEO official said.

To do this, OEO is sending in professional management consulting teams to work with community development corporations, and train the ghetto executives about cost accounting and writing financial statements.

Crawfordville Enterprises in Crawfordville, Ga., (population 3,500) found this out last spring when, after running into one financial crisis after another, it looked to OEO for refunding. OEO agreed, but only after the community development corporation agreed to retain a professional management consulting firm acceptable to OEO.

"People that didn't produce

Thursday, September 18, 1969

were let go," said the OEO official. "This gave incentive to others that to get paid they had to produce."

Now, OEO says Crawfordville Enterprises is beginning to make progress in dealing with its fundamental problem of creating job opportunities to reduce migration from the town. It already is the largest employer in the county. Numbered among its projects are a textile manufacturing business, a small credit union and an agricultural cooperative.

OEO's emphasis on keeping a closer watch on where its money goes appears to bear the stamp of its new director, Donald Rumsfeld. Shortly after his appointment to the agency by President Nixon in April, Rumsfeld said in an interview:

"OEO will develop approaches and ideas that can be tested and made workable ... and if they cannot work, they will be stopped."

He added that failures are to be expected, but said, "Every finding that things do not work is progress when you are in the research and development field. Part of the past difficulties in this field have arisen because there is so much we do not know."

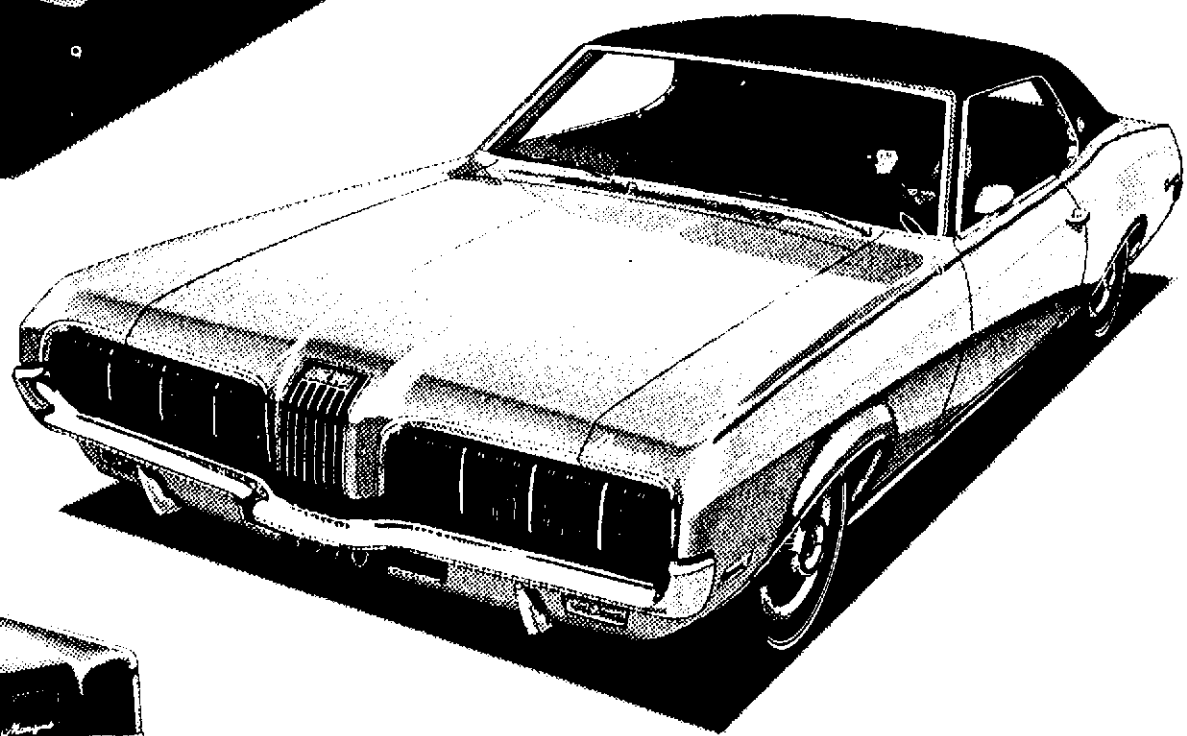

The sun is 1.3 million times bigger than the earth.

Miss Reynolds Quits After First Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds quite her first television series almost before it began, objecting to the presentation of a cigarette commercial during its premiere.

"I will not be a party to such commercials," she told the National Broadcasting Co. Wednesday.

"We're rather mystified," said NBC-TV Vice President Mort Werner. A network spokesman said "Miss Reynolds' own people" had known about the commercial since March.

The actress said she discovered it Tuesday night, the first commercial in the premiere of her "Debbie Reynolds Show," and, "I was shocked." At noon Wednesday she quit.

"I consider cigarette commercials directly opposed to health and well being," she said. "This gesture is a complete breach of my understanding and agreement with NBC."

Children's Hour Planned by Hope Station

KXAR is considering establishing a children's hour from 6 to 6:30 p.m. each week day.

The program would be both educational and entertaining with the best known children stories being told by professional personnel. KXAR manager Haskell Jones says he will purchase the library and provide the time as a service to the community if he receives an expression of interest from parents who would like to have such a program for children three to seven years of age each night at 6 p.m. The program could be started as early as October 13th if enough parents either call or write KXAR to express an interest. By Sept. 25th.

The uniforms pattern and material was selected at this time. Red and White were the colors that was chosen. This is also the National Jaycees color.

The Jaycettes creed was recited by Mrs. Joyce Westmorland of Prescott.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Two new offerings, presented on ABC and NBC Wednesday night, promise to be fine additions to the television season: "Room 222" and "Then Came Bronson."

Bronson first rode his motorcycle onto the NBC screen last season in one of those movies-for-TV and it appeared to be just another action show, about a laconic young man riding a motorcycle from adventure to adventure.

But if the series' first episode is typical, it will be much more. The program had Bronson picking up a job at a summer camp for disturbed children. The story then focused on one boy who was completely withdrawn, without speech and self-destructive.

The hour was primarily devoted to showing how Bronson used the boy's affection and interest in the motorcycle to reach his troubled mind. Although the story was a delicate tapestry it was not without drama. The boy escaped from Bronson during a critical moment and his final breakthrough was moving.

Michael Parks in the title role is a silent, sober young man who reminds one of the late James Dean. The opening segment, however, was stolen by Mark Lester, who played the disturbed boy with conviction.

"Room 222" centered on Pete Dixon, a history teacher in a big city high school. The first episode, introducing the continuing characters, told how a sympathetic and involved instructor kept a bright pupil from being shipped to an inferior school.

While the physical background of the half-hour ABC series is reminiscent of the old "Mr. Novak" series, this one tackles schools and teachers from another angle. It probably must be counted a situation comedy—what else has a laugh track?—but Lloyd Haynes, a newcomer, makes a vital, attractive young man of the history teacher. The fact that he is black is noted, but not hampered in.

The program made its points, about learning, about human and race relations, but with dispatch and managed to get in some rich humor and amusing lines frequently.

"The Courtship of Eddie's

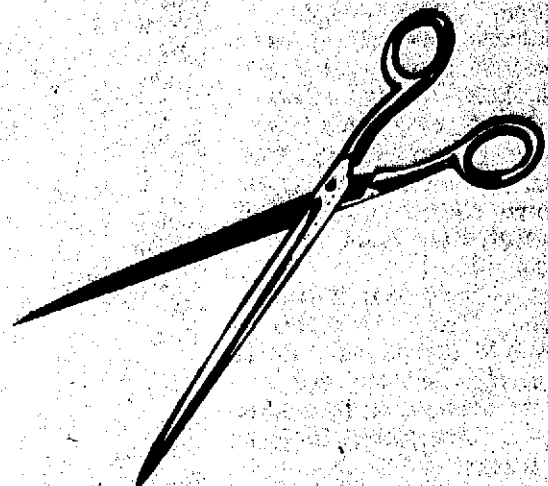

Father," which presented a ABC, later last week, central characters in that were a young widower, played by Paul Dooley, and the 6-year-old son who even in the first show seemed to be the more mature, less impulsive.

The show's gimmick apparently will be the boy's determination to find a wife for his mother. In the first episode he invited home a candidate, but it all moved rather slowly and predictably. "Myra" U'N'U' played the family housekeeper and some of the jokes were based on language problems.

The series aims to pick the heartstrings while evoking laughter, but falls a bit flat.

Dwight D. Eisenhower was the first U.S. president of more than 48 states.

Leopards, Bobcats to Please Crowd

By RALPH RUTON
Star Sports Writer

When the Hope Bobcats and the DeQueen Leopards resume their rivalry at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow night, Leopard Stadium should provide a real crowd-pleaser.

What the fans will see is a fighting 26-man squad in DeQueen facing an exciting Bobcat offense and young defense. Leopard Head Coach Wayne Freppon has 18 returning lettermen and nine starters, which indicates that depth is the only major problem.

This is true, especially after Freppon made some personnel changes to spread out his big and talented linemen, with a good set of backs already in the arsenal. Offensively, DeQueen runs from a slot formation similar to what the Bobcats ran last year.

In the slot lineup, the Leopards have the freedom of splitting one and sometimes two ends, besides the slotback who can be tight or spread out any distance. This setup can easily be adapted for running and passing situations, but requires good offensive blocking.

At center, DeQueen has a two-year starter in senior Dennis Turner, a 185-pounder who could make All-District. Former tackle Randy Davis, a strapping 205-pound junior, mans the weakside guard spot but is not long on speed.

Glen Tollett (165), a senior who started last year at end, was shifted to strongside guard and has the speed needed to pull out and lead on sweeps and outside plays. Another transfer from end is weakside tackle Jerry Cooper, who has filled out into a 190-pound senior.

Over at strongside tackle is one of the team's top athletes, senior Johnny Tollett (200). He is a fine blocker and is quick, maybe labeling him as a college prospect.

Jackie Bell, the DeQueen do-everything, holds down the tight end spot, and he is now a 185-pound senior. A possible All-Stater, Bell is also a fine punter and has kicked two field goals already this year. At slot end is a converted halfback, 160-pound Hubert Gilmore, a junior letterman with good hands.

That line looks good on paper, and they have shown up well on films which the Bobcats have seen this week of the Leopards. There are few reserves, but Mike Hooker (200), Steve Campbell (165), and Lonnie Staggs (220) will see action from center to tackle.

In the backfield, DeQueen has three-year quarterback Dick Van Beber calling the signals. Van Beber is a quick 150-pound senior who has developed a better passing arm, but junior Larry Miller (150) will come in on occasion specifically to pass, in which case Van Beber would move to halfback.

A good one at tailback is senior Twain Wilson, a shifty 150-pounder who is also a fine receiver. Wilson also handles most of the kick returning, and can break away anytime. The fullback is the only soph on the first offense, 165-pound Gary Bell, who has asserted himself as a fine runner and blocker in two games.

One of the keys to the offense is slotback Ronnie Pickett, a 155-pound senior who is used to run pass routes, carry the ball on reverse counter plays and occasional sweeps, and block on runs to the strong side. As a whole, DeQueen should be able to move the ball early on the Hope defense, similar to the Bobcats' opening series at Ashdown. However, with nine starters going both ways, the Leopards must count on an early lead to hang on for a good hope of victory.

Defensively, Freppon has the "27" formation, which is com-

Thinks Hope Will Beat DeQueen

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fort Smith Northside, unbeaten in more than two years, will get its first true test of the season Friday night, playing El Dorado.

Before the season, every Class AAAA coach tabbed El Dorado as the darkhorse.

The Wildcats opened with a big victory over Forrest City and have had two weeks to prepare for the top-ranked Grizzlies.

Northside routed Van Buren two weeks ago and last week took to the air to defeat Fayetteville.

It is a good spot for an upset, but Northside won't give up its unbeaten string easily.

NORTHSIDE 21, EL DORADO 7.

Four of the other top six teams in the state square off at Little Rock.

Second-ranked Little Rock Central plays fifth-ranked Little Rock Catholic Thursday night and third-ranked Little Rock Hall takes on sixth-ranked Little Rock McClellan Friday night.

Central opened its season last week with an impressive 47-0 victory over Benton while Catholic dropped a 20-15 decision to Hall in the final minute.

The momentum may be in Central's favor.

CENTRAL 20, CATHOLIC 13. Hall's 91-yard touchdown drive in the closing minutes against Little Rock Catholic is bound to help the Warriors.

Dropping from second to third in The Associated Press poll may also help get the Warriors ready.

HALL 13, MCCLELLAN 7.

Last week's record was 29-10, a percentage of .744. The season's percentage is .714.

Aussie Takes Over Romanian Tennis Teams

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND HEIGHTS, Ohio (AP) — Harry Hopman, the notorious Captain Bligh of Australian tennis took charge today as the coach and unofficial advisor of the Romanian Davis Cup team, seeking to wrest the trophy from the United States.
He ordered the Romanian locker room closed to newsmen. He took over complete direction of the challengers' schedule and discipline. He imposed a gag rule.
These were tactics familiar to the little, sandy-haired task master during his leadership of Australian tennis during the last 20 years in which he won 15 times.
Hopman supervised his first interviews Wednesday although Romania's Davis Cup champion Jorge Kobzuc, a former Davis Cupper himself, and the secretary of the Romanian Sports Federation, Alexander Lazaresco were present but almost speechless.
"Do you think you have a chance of beating the Americans?" one of the players was asked.
"Don't answer that," Hopman interrupted tersely. "That is a question you may ask after the draw tomorrow."
The draw is scheduled at noon EDT today for the three-day series, starting on the Clark Memorial asphalt courts at 1 p.m. EDT, Friday.
Treason is the only crime clearly defined by the U.S. Constitution.

Seeks Truth on Nerve Gas Tests

HONOLULU (AP) — Gov. John Burns says he wants to know whether the U.S. Army did or didn't test nerve gas in 1966 and 1967 on the slopes of Mauna Loa.
The governor said he cabled Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor Wednesday asking for clarification of reports involving apparently conflicting answers from the Army itself.
"I'm not accusing the Army of duplicity," Burns said, "but I am greatly concerned over reports that nerve gas tests were conducted."
Burns said he would await Resor's answer before recommending possible action by the state Land Board, which could cancel the balance of the Army's five-year lease on a 1,144-acre test site on the side of Hawaii's second-tallest volcano.
The lease, expiring in January 1971, stipulated that the land would be used "as a site to conduct classified meteorological and related tests."
Rep. Patsy I. Mink, D-Hawaii, said Tuesday the Army had acknowledged in a letter to her that it had used the site for testing the nerve agent GB and the incapacitating agent BZ a total of four times in 1966-67.
On July 31, in a written response to the Honolulu Star-Bulletin's question whether it had ever tested "either chemical or biological warfare weapons in Hawaii" the Army said:
"No, the Army has not tested either chemical or biological weapons in Hawaii. The Army has conducted limited chemical tests under strict safety precautions to obtain defense department information."
Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, said the Defense Department had assured him a month previously nerve gases were not being tested in his state.
Burns commented: "I'm aware the Army must conduct experiments to insure the security of the nation. But my first concern is the welfare of the citizens of this state."
The Army's test site, in a jungle area, is 14 miles from Hilo, a city of 27,000.

Worst Split in Labor in Recent Times

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor's worst split in recent times will widen next month when the AFL-CIO moves to kick out the international Chemical Workers for joining Walter Reuther's Alliance for Labor Action.
"It's a hard decision but there's no choice," said a high AFL-CIO official. "We're between a rock and a hard place."
George Meany, 75-year-old president of the 13.6 million member AFL-CIO, wants the Chemical Workers expelled as a lesson to the federation's 121 other unions that they can't have one foot in his camp and the other in Reuther's.
Reuther pulled his 1.6 million member Auto Workers union out of the AFL-CIO after a long attack on Meany's leadership and joined the 1.9 million member Teamsters union in founding the Alliance several months ago. The Teamsters were kicked out of the federation 12 years ago on corruption charges.
The split is the most serious in labor's ranks since the late Mineworkers President John L. Lewis formed the CIO in a break with the AFL in the 1930s.
Meany will turn over the direction of the Chemical Workers' expulsion to Lane Kirkland, his longtime executive assistant recently elevated to secretary treasurer of the AFL-CIO.

Chrysler Just May Hold the Prices Down

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. may be winning profits and sales, it is up to bat in the 1970 car pricing game.
Unlike last year when it was the first to release price increases, and then had to toll them back, Chrysler has waited until General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. announced their price hikes. Chrysler must move within the next few days, since new models go on sale Tuesday.
There are strong indications that Chrysler is ready to keep its prices down to strengthen its position.
GM, whose cars go on sale today, announced an average retail price hike of $125 per car, while Ford placed its at $108. Ford's 1970 cars go on sale Friday.
American Motors begins new model sales next Thursday. American traditionally does not announce its prices until a day or two before the sales begin and presumably will look at its three competitors' lists before finalizing prices.
Among the four U.S. automakers, Chrysler's domestic share of the market so far this year is 17 per cent, compared to 18 per cent a year ago. Ford's market share increased from 26.9 per cent in 1968 to 27.5 per cent this year.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

MUST A GIRL CHASE A BOY IF SHE WANTS TO CATCH HIM?

Dear Helen: I am 14 and don't have a boy friend problem. In fact, I don't have a boy friend, or even want a steady. But I would like to dance with a guy when we have our school parties.

How do I get the chance with all the boys chasing around? They see a cute fella and they walk right up and ask him his name, address and phone number. They ask guys to dance with them, and even to save dances for them. The boys may not like that (as I've read) but they don't refuse!

Last night there was a new boy at a party and, wow, did the chasers gang up on him! I found out later he wanted to meet all the girls, but the pushy ones wouldn't give him a chance.

Should I try to be like the "go-getters," or resign myself to not being "got"? — SIDE-LINER

Dear Sideliner: It's tough to get "wait" for an answer, but if you spend your waiting time being friendly, interested, but not too eager, you'll end up with more boy friends than the chasers. You see, at age 14 and 15 boys often lack self-assurance, and so as they mature, however, they become more selective, and they seek out the girls who don't fall all over them. My advice: Develop your sparkle, stay just outside the "line of attack," and catch the guys who escape! — H.

Dear Helen: I'm writing a psychology paper on various human reactions. One section deals with ability to follow instructions, written and oral. I've learned that over 50 percent of one's listeners don't catch simple instructions the first time. When you give someone your phone number to write down, it's quite unusual if he doesn't ask you to say it again. Our concentration level is very low.

How about observation? I'm wondering how many of your readers goof up on directions? When you offer a give-away in return for a stamped, self-addressed envelope, what percentage don't send envelope and the stamp? — STUDENT

Dear Student: Interesting question! Approximately eight percent of my readers forget the SAE when writing for a give-away which is clearly advertised. "Send Stamped Self-Addressed Envelope. . . ." Sometimes they even forget their address, and often they write so illegible that I can't make it out.

NOTE TO READERS: This may explain why some of you haven't received your "What is a Boy Friend?" "What is a Girl Friend?" mimeographs. Are you SURE you followed instructions? — H.

Dear Helen: Here's another answer to guys who want too much. When he asks, "Do you believe in free love?" answer, "Sorry I don't go for anything that cheap." — K. B.

Mustang gallops into 1970 with design changes and improvements for performance, comfort, convenience and safety. Grande (top) offers a standard three-quarter landau-style vinyl roof, dual body side stripes, aluminum rocker panel moldings, and hound-tooth upholstery. Mach 1 (bottom) is tougher in look and performance with dark-arched aluminum rocker panel moldings, "honeycomb" lower back panel applique, dual racing mirrors and Ford's new 351 four-barrel V-8 as the standard power plant. All seven Mustang models have high-back bucket seats as standard.

School Changes Must Await Litigation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley Wednesday prohibited authorities from making any changes in the Dollarway School District until litigation over the division of the district is settled.

Henley issued the injunction after a hearing on a suit brought by a group to prevent the withdrawal of the Hardin area from the Dollarway district.

District patrons voted Sept. 11 to withdraw Hardin from the Dollarway district. The Dollarway district is about 55 per cent Negro and is under federal court order to integrate. The Hardin area has about 300 school-age children, almost all of whom are white.

Henley said that "the overpowering and overwhelming public interest at this juncture is not whether Hardin lawfully may organize its own district . . . but what is going to happen about the education of these children in the weeks to come."

Jack Lessenberry of Little Rock, who is the attorney for the group that filed suit, said the move to form a district at Hardin was a "blatant" attempt to evade the Dollarway integration order.

Lessenberry said that to remove the 300 white children from Dollarway schools would make the racial imbalance in the district even greater. He asked the court to prevent the start of any action to proceed with establishing a separate district in the Hardin area, saying that such a move now would cause entanglements such as separation of tax revenues from the Dollarway district to the Hardin area if and when a district is developed there.

Lessenberry estimated that the Dollarway district would lose about $100,000 in school aid.

"After that loss, Dollarway may not be able to successfully complete the school year," he said. "Neither will the Hardin area be able to successfully educate its children with that small sum."

Lessenberry said no school facilities existed in the Hardin area.

Harvey Snell, associate state education commissioner for administrative services, said the Hardin area, while it had no school buildings, probably would be given a portion of the Dollarway district's $998,500 bonded indebtedness.

He said that separation of such items as school vehicles, portable buildings and other items would pose more problems for separating the two areas.

Snell said the Dollarway district also probably would encounter difficulty because it had hired teachers and made contracts with them on the assumption that the 300 youngsters from the Hardin area would be part of those to be educated this year in the Dollarway district.

Local Labor Survey Planned in Few Weeks

A comprehensive labor survey designed to show the available work force in Hempstead county is planned within the next few weeks, Teddy Jones, manager of the Hope Employment Security Division office, said today.

"Information we hope to gain in this survey will be most important to the continued development of new industry and business in the county," Jones said.

The Southwest Arkansas Economic Development District and the Employment Security Division are co-sponsoring the survey in cooperation with the Hope-Hempstead Chamber of Commerce and Hempstead County Industrial Foundation.

The Employment Security Division will mail survey forms to every household in the county. Every person, age 16 or over, will be asked to complete one of the forms. They will contain questions about age, sex, marital status, work experience, education, income levels and health needs.

"Accurate, up-to-date information containing these characteristics about Hempstead County's available work force is not available, and we need it to expand the county's economic status," Jones pointed out.

The survey forms will be addressed and will not require a stamp for residents to mail back to the ESD office.

President to Make Space Decision Soon

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon soon will make a decision on the nation's goals in space, choosing from three alternatives—including two that would put Americans on Mars in the 1980s.

All three choices, made public Tuesday by the White House, foresee development of a space station and a reusable earth-to-orbit shuttle vehicle.

Under the first and most expensive option, the annual cost would climb steadily from the current $4 billion a year to $8.10 billion for each fiscal year from 1970 through 1980 for a total of $78.2 billion the Mars landing would be in 1982.

The second and third alternatives would keep the annual cost at $4 billion the next two fiscal years, rising to a peak of $5.7 billion in 1976. The second option, which envisions a Mars landing in 1986, would then rise to a peak of $8 billion a year in the early 1980s, with an 11-year total of $57.5 billion. Option three would require a funding of $54.1 billion in the first 11 years.

"We presented a balanced program," said Vice President Spiro T. Agnew—a member of the four-man task group. "My personal preference is Option two which allows clear acceptance of a Mars landing in 1986 but leaves us free to be flexible in unmanned precursor flights."

The other three members said they had not yet given the President their personal choice, although all said any of the three would be acceptable.

Dr. Lee DuBridge, the President's science advisor and a member of the task group said "in all three options there are from the scientific viewpoint very important benefits."

The report stunned two extremes—dropping all manned flights after the three-flights a year Apollo program runs its course—or starting a crash program to put men on Mars in the 1970s.

The differences in the timetable between options one and two can be seen in this comparison: Space station in earth orbit 1976 and 1977; 50-man space base in earth orbit, 1980 and 1984; a 100-man space base in earth orbit, 1985 and 1989; a lunar orbiting station 1978 and 1981; a lunar surface base 1980 and 1983; initial Mars expedition, 1983 and 1986.

Option three would have the same timetable as option two, but leaving the year of a Mars landing open.

The shuttle vehicle would be ready in 1976 under option one and 1977 under options two and three; and a "space tug" in 1978 under option one and 1981 under option two.

Under all three plans, Dr. DuBridge pointed out, a "grand tour" of the planets, by unmanned vehicles, would be scheduled for 1977 to 1979. The planets will not be aligned in a position to make such a tour feasible again for another 100-150 years.

"All three options will enable us to hold on to our (space) team—indeed give them a major challenge," said NASA administrator Thomas O. Paine, the third member of the group.

The fourth task group membership requirements were classified but that the department is interested in the possibility of the space transport system.

All-Time Grid Team Headed by Red Grange
NEW YORK (AP) — Harold "Red" Grange is the only unanimous choice on the modern all-time college football team named today by the Football Writers of America.
Grange ran to college football immortality from 1923 through 1925 as Illinois' Galloping Ghost.
Just one vote shy of unanimous selection was Bronislaw "Bronko" Nagurski who starred at tackle for Minnesota from 1927-29.
Only one player on the team played his college ball after 1940—Jim Parker, Ohio State guard from 1954-56.
Other members of the team are ends Bennie Oosterbann, Michigan, and Don Hutson, Alabama; tackle Frank "Bruiser" Kinnard, Mississippi; guard Bob Suffridge, Tennessee; center Mel Hein, Washington State, and backs Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian; Jay Berwanger, Chicago, and Ernie Nevers, Stanford.

Clarifying
Yesterday's Piece
on Constitution

W. H. Etter, Hempstead county's delegate to the constitutional convention, questions a statement of fact made in yesterday's editorial discussing the tentative draft of the proposed constitution and organized labor's opposition to four provisions in it.

I dismissed Labor's objections to two proposals, retaining the right-to-work law and giving cities the right to levy local income tax if the people so voted; I was uncertain about abandonment of the 10-per-cent ceiling on interest, although considering it a realistic and necessary move — but I did agree with Labor on the fourth proposal, that the constitution-writers made a mistake when they proposed to cut the vote requirement of the legislature to override an initiated act from present two-thirds to a bare 51 per cent.

It was on this point that BILL Etter called for a factual correction. He said the tentative draft of the constitution maintains the two-thirds repeal protection for initiated acts, but after 10 years on the law books an initiated act may then be repealed by the legislature on a bare 51 per cent vote.

The newspapers as yet haven't been furnished copies of the constitutional draft; therefore I had to assume Labor's statement of the offending passages was correct. Confusion was inevitable when you consider that present protection for initiated acts was guaranteed for 10 years, then reduced to a bare majority vote for repeal by the legislature.

Here is the exact provision as Mr. Etter gave it to me this morning:

"AMENDMENT AND REPEAL, Section 12. No measure hereafter approved by a vote of the people shall be amended or repealed for 10 years by the General Assembly or by the governing body of any county or municipality, except upon a roll-call vote of two-thirds of the total membership of each house of the General Assembly or of the local governing body, as the case may be."

The inference that after 10 years an initiated act may be amended or repealed on a bare 51 per cent vote of the legislature is correct, Mr. Etter conceded.

Therefore my objection to the proposal remains—and I think Labor's opposition to it was on solid ground.

Your editor has a pretty thorough experience in initiative and referendum matters, having circulated state-wide petitions pertaining to the state sales tax in 1955 and 1957.

I only state that it is obvious when I say that it is much cheaper for special interests to manipulate the legislature into doing their bidding than it is for the people to mount a petition campaign to defeat the special interests with an initiative act or a referendum. I backed the 1955 sales tax petition personally at a cost of $6,000, spent another $3,000 as my share of the 1957 petition circulation campaign—and with resultant legal fees and court costs to final defeat in the United States Supreme Court my total bill reached $18,000.

I'll never regret it.

On the other hand I'll never agree that the legislature has any moral or legal right to tamper with a bill promoted by the people after the legislature studiously refused enactment.

Denies Onassis Seriously Ill

ATHENS (AP)—A rumor that Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis is seriously ill on Scipios, his private island, was denied today by the chairman of his Olympic Airways.

"Mr. Onassis is in the best of health and he is with his wife Jacqueline and her children on Scipios," said Ioannis Georgakakis in a statement published in Athens newspapers.

Georgakakis said rumors that Onassis had suffered a heart attack were "unfounded." The rumors sprang up after Onassis did not appear at his Athens office for three days.

Forrest City Schools Are Closed

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—The Forrest City School Board decided Wednesday night to close the city's schools until racial problems in the district "quieten down."

The action affects students in Forrest City public schools and in about five rural schools, which are part of Special District 7, the Forrest City district.

James Derositi, board president, said the board voted to close schools for today and Friday and possibly next week.

He said a decision would be made later when to reopen the schools.

Derositi said the board had felt that "it's in the best interests of all not to have any school until things quieten down."

The action was taken at a second emergency meeting of the board held after 46 white students walked out of the Sam Smith Junior High School Tuesday. They said they had been threatened and intimidated by Negro students.

About 100 white persons, most of them students at the junior high school, picketed classes at the predominantly white school.

Evils of World Traced to Fact People Fight, Are Afraid of Change

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"Life is constant change," said Keir Dullea, "and this is a good thing because it means there is hope."

"But half the evils of the world can be traced to the fact that people fight or are afraid of change."

It was the desire for change and adventure that led the handsome young film star, after a year at Rutgers University, to hitchhike to the West Coast, a 20-day, hardship-filled trek which he feels helped mature him considerably.

While working as an assistant carpenter to pay his way through San Francisco State College, he fell in with a group of young actors and decided on a stage career himself.

Returning here, he studied

Drug Abuse Made Worse 23 Slated to Come Home Are Killed

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Drug abuse is primarily a medical and social problem made worse by severe laws with harsh mandatory penalties, say two leading federal experts.

They urged Congress Wednesday to abolish all mandatory sentences for possession and use of marijuana.

One of the witnesses, Dr. Sidney Cohen, head of the drug abuse section of the National Institute of Mental Health, went so far as to recommend the possession of marijuana—and such hallucinogens as LSD—be dealt with as misdemeanors, not felonies.

The institute's head, Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, said that in terms of ruined lives, the penalties for using marijuana are far worse than the substance they were meant to control.

The present law—which provides sentences up to 40 years for some offenses—has no provision for probation or parole in any cases except a first-offense conviction for possession of narcotics, marijuana or dangerous drugs.

In a strongly worded statement, Yolles said: "It is extremely unfortunate that by the continued, exaggerated emphasis on the supposed dire evils of marijuana smoking, we make it extremely difficult to tell people what the real risk of use of specific drugs are."

"A youngster who smokes one marijuana cigarette is not a dope fiend, even though misguided individuals in the past have made this association."

Yolles was commended for his testimony by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, chairman of a Judiciary subcommittee now considering legislation to restructure existing U.S. narcotics law.

"What must be emphasized," Dr. Cohen said Wednesday, "is that Dr. Yolles and I are not 'soft' on drugs."

"It is evident that strict controls over the illicit manufacture, transportation, smuggling and dealing in large amounts of abusable substances are necessary and desirable," he said.

"It is also evident that more stringent laws . . . for simple possession and use of these same substances have not been effective. Their abuse is a problem of prevention, education and treatment."

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell testified earlier in support of the administration's narcotics bill, stating it would make the law more flexible and allow judges limited discretion in granting probation for some offenses.

The Justice Department recently announced a crackdown on marijuana smuggling across the Mexican border.

Anyone Can Enter Work in Art Show

The Hope Art Club is busy painting pictures for their third Art Show. All artists, children, and adults, are invited to enter their art work. This year's show promises to be the best ever held here.

Cash and merchandise awards are to be given to the children and adults. Many artists from other cities have been invited, and there should be art work from, at least, four states.

Entries will be accepted Sunday, September 21 from 4 to 6 p.m. and Monday, September 22 from 10 to 12 a.m. There will be an entry fee of $2 for adults and 50 cents for children.

All paintings must be matted or framed and ready for hanging. An oil painting by Jack Spates will be given in a drawing the last day of the Art Show, which has become an important part of the Third District Livestock Show in Hope Fair Park.

Anyone Can Enter Work in Art Show

The Hope Art Club is busy painting pictures for their third Art Show. All artists, children, and adults, are invited to enter their art work. This year's show promises to be the best ever held here.

Cash and merchandise awards are to be given to the children and adults. Many artists from other cities have been invited, and there should be art work from, at least, four states.

Entries will be accepted Sunday, September 21 from 4 to 6 p.m. and Monday, September 22 from 10 to 12 a.m. There will be an entry fee of $2 for adults and 50 cents for children.

All paintings must be matted or framed and ready for hanging. An oil painting by Jack Spates will be given in a drawing the last day of the Art Show, which has become an important part of the Third District Livestock Show in Hope Fair Park.
